Assistant Professor Position in Theoretical Linguistics
Department of Language Studies
University of Toronto Mississauga

The Department of Language Studies, University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) invites applications for a tenure-track position in Theoretical Linguistics at the Assistant Professor level, beginning July 1, 2010. Specialization should be in the area of theoretical linguistics (phonology, morphology, syntax, or semantics), preferably with interests in second language acquisition or psycholinguistics. Qualifications are: A Ph. D. degree in Theoretical Linguistics, a strong publication record, and evidence of excellence in teaching and research. Knowledge of French, German or Italian would be an asset. Duties consist of Teaching in the Linguistics program at all levels (undergraduate and graduate), supervision of graduate students, and collaboration with research groups within the Department. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

We encourage candidates to submit their applications online at the following link: https://utoronto.taleo.net/careersection/10050/jobdetail.ftl If you are unable to apply online (or alternately have large documents to send) please submit your application and other materials to the address below. Candidates should submit a covering letter, a current CV, copies of three publications, and should arrange to have three letters of reference (sent directly by referees) before October 23, 2009 to:

Professor Michel Lord
Acting Chair
Department of Language Studies
University of Toronto Mississauga
3359 Mississauga Road North
North Building, Room 235
Mississauga, Ontario
CANADA, L5L 1C6.

The deadline for applications is October 23, 2009.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, people with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. We offer opportunities to work in many collaborative programs, including Aboriginal, Canadian, ethno-cultural, sexual diversity, gender and women’s studies. The University of Toronto offers the opportunity to teach, conduct research and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.