Tutorials: Mon, 4-5 PM, Bahen (BA) 1220
Final review: Monday, Dec. 1, BA 1220; Friday, December 5, 3-5:00 PM, SS 2106.

TAs: David Zhou, Rose Chen

Administrative Matters
Prerequisites: ECO 200Y/204/206Y and MAT 133Y/123&124H/135&136H/137Y/157Y; time and energy for reading and thinking about the course, good English language skills – this is a verbal course.

Marking Scheme: mid-term tests 20% for the first test, 25% for the second test, in-class exercise 5%, final exam 50%. Term tests Mon., October 6; Mon., November 3, 4-5PM. Short exercise worth 5% done at end of class on September 17, no make-up. Absence from the tests will only be excused for serious illness, notified to me no later than the day after the test, with a note from a doctor that I deem sufficient. Workforce absenteeism averages 3%. An excused absence leads to a make-up term test. An unexcused absence leads to a zero.

Office hours: Max Gluskin House 323, Tuesday, 3-4 PM, Wednesday, 4-5 PM. Ask questions about the course in these office hours after studying relevant readings. See this video for motivation: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=576TsBiJpm4.

Web support: this is a Blackboard course. Blackboard will have announcements, readings, class notes and a discussion board. Please submit general questions to the discussion board. Your classmates may answer them; if not, I will try to answer within two working days. Everyone can benefit from the question and answers. Log in to the Portal using your UTO Rid and password. Follow the link to ECO 320.

Email policy: Please address questions about the course ideas, materials, substance and procedure to the discussion board. For personal issues only, email me at: dewees@chass.utoronto.ca. Use your UToronto email account and write ECO 320 and your name in the subject line. I will try to respond within two working days.

Finding Journals:
The reading list includes some journal articles or working papers. The journals are available to UofT students through the UofT library on JSTOR, http://www.jstor.org. A link is provided below to the particular journal. Browse for the issue, click on the article.

For off-campus access to journals, go to:
You will be asked to provide your library barcode and a PIN, which should be the last 4 digits of your student number, unless you have changed it. Once you log in, you can access all JSTOR articles. Use the search function to search for the name of the article. The article you want may not be at the top of the results, so check the article with the exact title as listed in the outline. Once you find the article, click on it, and view it online or download it as a pdf file.
2. Course Goals

- Learn basic elements of the law, predominantly Canadian and US common law and some statutory law. Learn how the basic elements of the legal system work.
- Learn how to use economic tools to analyse and understand the efficiency and distributional effects of alternative legal doctrines.
